An Afternoon of Visual Music at Kehler Liddell Gallery with Gaylene Music, as she Performs the Music she has Composed for the Current Bruckmann /Clinard Exhibit.

Gaylene Music will perform the music she has composed exclusively for Frank and Susan's exhibition with keyboard, voice, flute and percussion.

These original pieces are to be seen and heard together only at KLG. This is a closing event for the Bruckmann/Clinard exhibition. Donations heartily accepted and refreshments will be served.

Ever wonder what a painting sounds like? During the current show "New Work" at the Kehler Liddell Gallery in Westville, local singer/composer/musician Gaylene Vasilopoulos has been busy composing original scores, inspired by the paintings of Frank Bruckmann and sculptures of Susan Clinard. All are encouraged to attend this closing event, Sunday, January 16, 2-4pm, to hear what these works of art "sound" like.

After an autumn visit to both artist's studios where she took photos and recorded her impressions of their work, Gaylene went into her studio and began to create a soundtrack for the exhibition. The Bruckmann and Clinard show, "New Work" is a "thoughtful and intriguing exhibit in which the artists utilize different means, materials and modes to probe that which lies beneath the surface," as reviewed by Judy Birke of the New Haven Register (1/2/11). Come and listen to what a whole other layer of art sounds like.
